Thornhills Ingenuity Makes Band Rise Rapidly To Top

Claude Thornhill, whose band is scheduled to play at the M.W.C. Christmas Formal, made an early start in the music world; and he and his band have produced one success after another from that time onward.

Thornhill's skill at the piano and his novel arrangements have made him a favorite on records as well as at personal performances. Some of his record releases which have won acclaim are: "Small Hotel," "Johnson Rag," "Where or When," "Maybe It's Because," and several albums. Probably his most famous recording and possibly the favorite, is his theme song, written and arranged himself, entitled "Snowfall."

His music has been honored by many since his initial performance. This success was recognized by Look Magazine, when it selected the Thornhill band as "The Band of the Year."

Claude Thornhill's musical studies began at the age of four. He was soon recognized as a prodigy, a fact he proved by giving his first recital at the age of six.

In order to continue his musical studies, Claude enrolled at the Conservatory of Music in Cincinnati to study concert piano. After he left the Conservatory, he enrolled at the Curtis Institute where his talent for arranging became prominent.

Then Thornhill joined Austin Wyllies' Orchestra, where he formed a lasting friendship with Artie Shaw. He left Wyllie to become arranger for Hal Kemp. After this, he did arranging work for Benny Goodman, Bing Crosby and others. In January 1940, he made his debut with his own band at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York.

Since then, the Claude Thornhill Band played in such famous places as the Statler Hotel in New York, the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago, the Shamrock Hotel in Houston and the Palladium in Hollywood.

Claude joined the Navy as an apprentice seaman in October 1942. The Navy recognized his talent and put him in charge of the Navy's musical group, the Rangers. He was a success at this, so they next built a show around him, called the Claude Thornhill All-Star show. The show made an extensive tour of the Pacific area. Claude returned to civilian life to continue his career after the war.

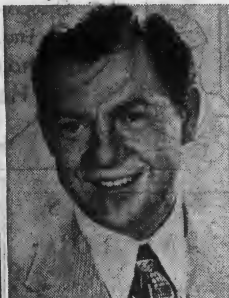

Brooks To Attend A.C.P.R.A. Meeting

Mr. Reynold H. Brooks, director of public relations here, will attend a meeting of District IV of American College Public Relations Association at Roanoke, December 7-9. Mr. Brooks is director of the district, which comprises North Carolina, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, District of Columbia, and Virginia.

A panel discussion on what public relations can do for a college will be the highlight of the meeting. A tea and reception, a tour of the Roanoke Times-Star, and a luncheon will also be included on the agenda.

Dr. Darter To Lecture

Dr. Oscar Darter, Professor of History, will lecture on "The Impact of Fredericksburg and Neighborhood on American History" Thursday, December 7, at 4:30 P.M. in Monroe Auditorium. The public is invited.

Peanut Week Gains New Twist

Peanut Week begins on Monday, December 11.

This year the peanuts will be distributed in the dining hall in a new and different fashion! The fun will last from Monday evening until Thursday, December 14. It will be climaxed by the customary Christmas dinner, complete with favors, followed by a sing around the lighted Christmas tree near Monroe Hall. The M.W.C. Band will turn out for the occasion in full regalia, and Christmas carols will be featured.

Marjorie Southcott and Connie Kontopanos are in charge of Peanut Week which is sponsored by the Y.W.C.A.

When the peanuts are distributed each girl will find the name of another in her peanut. From then on, she plays "shell" to this girl, doing everything in her power to please her. At the same time she keeps her identity a deep secret. When Peanut Week is over each girl learns who her heretofore unknown "shell" was through the personal visit her benefactor pays her.

Hi Fellows!

Speaking for all the girls here at M.W.C., I want to welcome you to our Christmas Dance. As you've probably heard from your dates, we expect this to be the biggest and best dance weekend ever held here. With all of you here, plus Claude Thornhill's music, how can we miss? Have a wonderful time and come back soon.

Sincerely, Jane Foster, Chairman
Formal Dance Committee

Glee Club Plans Annual Concert

The Glee Club of Mary Washington College will present its annual Christmas Concert on Sunday afternoon, December 10, at 4 P.M. in George Washington Auditorium.

The program will consist of new and familiar American and European songs, with solos and group numbers by the 60 members of the Glee Club.

Soloists for the concert will be: Roberts Thompson, Evelyn Chapman, Shirley Sinnard, Evelyn Skinner, Margaret Davis, Molly Myrus, Anne Ceglis, Dorothy Reisig, Aubrey Conklin, Ada Dorrill, and Mary Jean Gary.

Solo parts for group numbers will be sung by: Carroll Ferrell, Betty Stone, Joyce Westraer, Barbara Huff, Sophie McClanahan, and Charlotte Massey.

Miss Marion Chauncey is the director of the Glee Club and Donna Hankla is the accompanist. Lighting for the concert will be done by Charles Ritter.

The program will begin promptly and there will be no admittance during the songs.

Faculty, students, and guests are cordially invited to attend.

Faculty, Students Form Dance Comm.

The Formal Dance Committee at Mary Washington College, now planning the Christmas dance on December 9, is composed of six faculty members, appointed by Dr. M. L. Combs, president of the college, a student chairman elected by the student body, and her appointed committee.

This year the faculty members are: Miss Mary E. Stephenson, dean of women, Mrs. Mildred M. Bolling, Miss Charnetz S. Lenthart, Mrs. Margaret S. Russell, Miss Ruth S. Wade, and Miss Mildred P. Stewart.

The Student Chairman is Jane Foster, a senior. Her committee is composed of Carolyn Bowers and Gertrude Alfriend, seniors; Corely Gibson and Eleanor Dickinson, juniors; Peggy Hopkins and Mary Ann Fox, sophomores; and Delores Olmes, freshman.

The Dance Committee was organized about 1947 to take the place of the German and Cotillion Clubs which directed social events on campus at that time.

Dance Committee Privileges Dates For Christmas Dance

According to the list compiled by Jane Foster, chairman of the dance committee, there will be some 130 couples at the coming Christmas dance, not including the faculty. Included in the dancers will be those given below.

Thornhill To Play Saturday; Concert To Be Given Sunday

Although Claude Thornhill and his orchestra will be the big attraction of the coming dance weekend, there will be a full schedule of fun throughout Saturday and Sunday.

During Saturday afternoon there will be informal group singing and entertainment in each of the four major dormitories: Willard, Virginia, Westmoreland, and Ball. Two or three students from each class will lead the merriment in each dorm. Christmas carols are sure to be tops on the list of favorites. If they desire, two or more couples and their dates may also go to the movies in town.

The C Shoppe will serve a holiday dinner for those who make reservations in advance, or dates may go to dinner in town.

Claude Thornhill will play for a concert in George Washington Auditorium from 8 until 8:45 Saturday evening. Featured on the program will be such numbers as "Maybe It's Because" and Thornhill's theme song "Snowfall." Russ McIntyre, vocalist; and the "Snowflakes," a specialty quartet, will be with the band. Those with dance tickets will automatically have reserved seats for the concert. Anyone else may attend by purchasing the 35c tickets at the door.

At 9:15 the formal dance will begin in the Hall of Mirrors. Claude Thornhill and his band will highlight the occasion. Refreshments will be served during the dance and intermission. Each girl and her date will be given dance programs to arrange their dances before the dance. The correct attire for the dance will be floor or ballerina length formal for the girls and tux or dress uniforms for the boys.

On Sunday the M. W. C. Glee Club will present its annual Christmas concert at 4 P.M. in George Washington Auditorium. The program will be made up of new and familiar American and European songs.

"On The Air" To Be Presented On Dance Weekend

"On the Air," the benefit sponsored by Y.W.C.A., is scheduled for Friday, December 8, at 8 P.M. in Monroe Auditorium.

The scene will be set in a television studio where the many and varied talents of the youth of America will be displayed. Songs, dances, trios, and a ballet ensemble are on the agenda, along with an original finale by Donna Hankla.

Tickets are on sale outside the C Shoppe this week for 35c and 50c. They will also be sold at the door.

Dot Spencer Is Frosh Stu. Gov. Representative

Dorothy Spencer of Norfolk, Virginia, defeated Barbara Wilson from Punta Fordo, Florida, in the final freshman contest for Student Government Representative.

Dot held a similar position in high school, where she was a representative to Girls' State and vice-president of her senior class. She also held the joint position of editor-in-chief of the high school yearbook and newspaper.

At M.W.C. Dot, who is an English major, has joined the circulation staff of the battlefield and the Newman Club.

L. to R.—Jane Foster, Chairman of the Dance Committee; Mrs. Russell and Gertrude Alfriend plan Christmas dance.

Girls Attend VIVA

Fran Glass, Marian Davis, Ruth De Miller, Jody Levey, and Bobbie Kelley attended the annual meeting of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association at Lexington, Virginia, December 1 and 2. Joan Diehl attended the meeting as the M.W.C. Epaullet representative.

At the meeting each college publication was criticized individually, with both its good and bad points being brought out. Specialized clinics were held in which the different aspects of newspaper work, such as makeup, feature writing, advertising technique, news writing, etc., were taken up.

Christmas Dance

Saturday, December 9
4:00-5:00—Informal entertainment in dorm parlors.
8:00-8:45—Concert in G. W. Auditorium.
9:15-12:00—Formal dance in Hall of Mirrors.
Sunday, December 10
4:00—Glee Club Christmas concert in G. W. Auditorium.

Class Dues Overdue

With class benefits just around the corner and with seniors practicing nightly now its high time that all upper classmen paid their dues! It is a class rule that no student can take part in class activities, work on or participate in her class production unless she has first officially affiliated with her class by paying dues. Senior class dues of $4 a semester were due on November 15 and all students not paying dues by the end of this semester will lose their class privileges. Junior dues are $2.50 and Sophomore dues are $1.50 a year. These dues should be paid to the class treasurer. Pay your dues, become a part of your class, for by supporting your class you are contributing to a unified student body.

A Thank You

To the faculty and townspeople who so graciously extended their hospitality to Mary Washington students during the Thanksgiving Holidays we wish to convey the thanks of the students. The dinners and the teas provided an opportunity for the girls to spend several pleasant hours in homey atmospheres. The thoughtfulness and generosity of everyone was deeply appreciated by those girls who spent their holidays here.

R. DeM.

We want to extend our most sincere thanks on behalf of the student body to the Richmond, Fredericksburg, and Potomac Railroad and to the Greyhound Bus Company for facilitating our holiday travel each year by selling their tickets right here on the hill. We also wish to express our appreciation to the Trailway Bus Company for its year-around service on the campus.

Seldom is it possible for several organizations to work in such complete harmony towards the attainment of a mutual goal, getting M.W.C. students to and from their vacations, as the various bus companies, the R. F. and P. Railroad, and Mary Washington College do. We say "thank you" from the bottom of our hearts.

Bullet Office Hours

Have you ever heard of the Bullet Office? Well, it is located in Trinkle Library in room 4. The Bullet staff recently established office hours from 2-5, Tuesday-Friday. The staff is endeavoring to handle all business through The Bullet Office during these designated hours, and it is hoped that the students and faculty will cooperate by leaving your copy for the paper in the wire basket in The Bulletin Room. With your help we will strive to put out a better paper more efficiently.

'Y' TO SPONSOR CIZEK ART EXHIBIT

The Cizek Art Exhibit is on display this week, Monday through Friday, in the exhibit room on the first floor of Monroe Hall.

The art was done by the children in the famous Cizek Art School in Vienna and was brought here by Dr. Graves, philosophy teacher. Sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., the exhibit is free of charge; but donations are being asked to pay for new windows in the art school where the children work. Every window in the building was shattered during the war. Fifty dollars is needed for this cause.

"The need for donations is extremely urgent," says Mary Ann Fox, who is in charge of the exhibit, "and any contribution will be welcomed, no matter how small."

CURRENT EVENTS

400,000 to 500,000 have lunged down the Korean peninsula, sending the UN forces into retreat. The UN forces are faced with twin entrapments on the west and east coast of the peninsula. The UN forces are out-numbered five to one. The sharpest crisis is at P'yongyang, which is now being evacuated. Here the Reds have well over 12,000 troops. In the northeast 80,000 Chinese are menacing Wonsan. Our only hope appears to be in our naval and air supremacy, which may forestall a second Dunkirk.

The Soviet Army of Occupation in Germany has not stirred since the Chinese Reds entered Korea. However, having superiority in men, tanks, and planes they could be very successful in a campaign. The Europeans fear that once the U. S. man power is committed to a war with the Chinese Reds, the Russians will march into Europe.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Dr. James Bryant Conant, President of Harvard, has proposed a sterner, more all-inclusive program for Universal Military Service than any yet brought forward.

His plan, which would exempt no young men whatever in the 18-20 year age group, has for the past few weeks been the subject of serious discussion among the small group of educators, scientists and military men to whom Dr. Conant has made it known. It will undoubtedly receive early and intense scrutiny in the new session of Congress.

In the December 19 issue of LOOK, Dr. Conant will describe his proposal for the first time to the general public; and will give his reasons for its urgency and severity. He is well aware that the plan, if accepted, will affect many undergraduates, and all young men contemplating a college education.

Sincerely yours,

Jane Douglas

(Ed.'s note: As citizens of tomorrow this is an important issue with which each of us should be familiar.)

KOLLUM

Wednesday, Nov. 22nd was a day of gaiety here, for it was then that we all left these portals of knowledge and caught a glimpse of the outside world. The "C" Shoppe looked like the baggage room at Grand Central and the cabs were having their "hey day" sure enough.

The poor professors never had such a rough time trying to pound some knowledge into our thick skulls for everything was on our mind except the subject at hand. Finally in desperation some let us go early and the others who would never consider letting us go early, merely rambling on to the second light bulb on the far side until the bell called "time!" Five minutes later they were still lecturing the second light bulb on the far side.

The pay-off was that some of the gals were staying right here on campus over the holidays in order that they could catch up on the scads of back work. When the "wanderers" returned and asked the "selected ones" if they had caught up on the scads of back work, they simply laughed, shrugged their shoulders and started raving about the rare time spent in Washington, Falmouth or Richmond. Don't let 'em fool you when they say in a pathetic tone of voice that they're staying at school because of work. We have their number now!

But anyway the days flew by only too quickly and excluding the snow storms, hurricanes and virus infections, the remaining few staggered in Sunday night with nothing left but pleasant memories and three weeks of classes before pulling out for even better holidays.

On the average, urban families probably receive cash incomes about twice as high as those of families in villages and farms.

Dear Santa,
All I want for Xmas is:

1. A walk around Ball.
 2. A date for the Jr. Ring Dance.
 3. Unlimited cuts.
 4. Dorm to dorm taxi service.
 5. Snow—enough to stop trains on Jan. 3rd.
- Thankx,
Merrie Washington

MANNERS AND YOU

Once upon a time there was a princess who, because she was a princess decided to defy all the rules of respect for others and see how far she could go. The king thought it was very funny when she told the queen she was getting fat; the queen thought it was very cute when she told the king his bald head was too funny for words. And because the king and queen thought her bad manners 'quaint' the court could do nothing but to accept them also. So for four months the little princess raised holy heck and never once thought about the consequences. Then came the wonderful, glorious day, December 25th, and the little princess waited by the chimney for Santa Claus to fill her stockings. She waited and waited—the last we heard she was waiting still. You see, Santa don't like little girls, princesses or Mary Washington 'queens,' if they're thoughtless and rude to other people.

If you want to get a nice, pretty doll (preferably six two, weight two twenty) for Christmas better start mending your ways today. If you hurt Sue's feelings this morning by telling her she was just too dumb for words it's going to be a long time before she thinks of your name without anger. Or if you scrapped with your roommate last night about who should put out the light and you said a lot of naughty things, no amount of making amends will help until she gets good and ready to be friends again. Girls who consider the feelings of others, who go out of their way to serve instead of hurt them, who show courtesy to older people, are beginning now to store away a quality in themselves that will someday be more valuable to them than money in the bank. Unfortunately, during this last generation an idea has hit us that direct, sarcastic attacks on someone's character are very, very funny. In fact, the meaner the words the harder the bite of your tongue, the funnier it is. The witty insults are supposed to bring about laughter, and the title, "She's a scream" will be added to your name. Wise up pals, it won't and never will be. The importance of being nice to everyone all year around can not be stressed too highly. And don't forget, "He's making a list and checking it twice—gonna find out whose naughty or nice—Santa Claus is coming to town." Hope he thinks you deserve a truckful of pretty gifts cuz you've been so thoughtful to others, instead of a lump of coal and a switch.

Dear Mom . . .

Dear Mom,

Just a note to tell you I'm still alive. That's definitely an overstatement, I'll just say I'm existing. Am piled knee deep with work—term papers, reports, charts, etc. If you should happen to see a bundle of bones and bags on your doorstep Dec. 16 don't call the undertaker, it's just me!

We're in the midst of Volleyball season and such spirit and competition I've never seen before. Especially Virginia, why they not only have a super team but cheerleaders and a list of substitutes that even includes Miss Stephenson. Then there's the Madison team with all its sparkle, eh Carol! All in all, we're having a mighty fine time.

Practice for the Y Benefit has started with a big bang. Stumple is directing the show this year and it's terrific, with talent galore. If Monroe Auditorium stands under the vim and vigor of the benefits this year it sho' will amaze me. I've reserved some seats for you and Dad, so don't forget Dec. 8.

The opera, "La Boheme," was at G. W. last Thursday night and what a treat. Always prepared—we had several nurses and doctors in the audience in case Mimi's consumption got out of control. We girls on the hill went formal and what a show! Never have I seen so many fur coats. Boy, did my Racoon coat make a hit—why when I came in, everybody turned around and stared—guess I stole the show—huh?

Must close for now, my roommate wants to use her typewriter. Love to y'all,
Dotter

Campus News Quirks . . .

Psychology class at Coe College, Iowa is really progressive, according to an item in the State College News. The story told about a word association test being given by one of the psych professors at Coe. The usual black-white examples were given, then the prof came up with "love." Ventured a timid student, "Neck?"

The Daily Kansan carried a story about an entomology professor who walked into class with a large brown sack under his arm. Before revealing its contents he told puzzled students, "When a dog bites a man, it's a little unusual, but when a teacher brings apples to his students—that's news."

While most schools are trying to fight off a boost in the price of a cup of coffee, students who eat in the college cafeteria at the University of Buffalo have a unique worry. The customary pickle enhancing the hamburger is now considered a separate item—a penny a pickle!

The Harvard Lampoon, campus humor magazine, finds itself in a very unfunny position. A state police lieutenant was recently assigned to investigate the "filthy, obscene and licentious" magazine which was confiscated by Massachusetts police. A district judge described the magazine as "not fit" to be taken into homes where there were mothers, fathers or sisters. The content of the magazine, according to its editor, a collection of cartoons and jokes from other college magazines.

TRAIN AND BUS TICKETS TO BE SOLD ON CAMPUS

Richmond, Fredericksburg, and Potomac railroad agents and Greyhound bus agents will be selling tickets for Christmas travel Dec. 13 and 14 in Virginia cross-section. Trailway bus tickets may be obtained by contacting Charles Ritter, the student representative on the hill.

Chesterfield Sets Up Loan Bank On Campus

Pat Wise, campus Chesterfield representative, announces a new Chesterfield service on campus. Anyone needing cigarettes is welcome to come to the Chesterfield Loan Bank in Custis 301 and borrow a package. The only requirement for the borrower is that she sign her name and return her package within a week.

"Any student who would like to attend any of the Chesterfield broadcasts, such as Arthur Godfrey, Bob Hope, Bing Crosby, or Perry Como, in New York City during the Christmas holidays," adds Pat, "may obtain tickets from me in Custis 301. I must have your requests now in order to get the tickets in time."

B S Uings

"Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where Thieves break through the steal . . ." "For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." "Ye cannot serve God and mammon . . . But seek ye first the Kingdom of God, and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you."

These passages are familiar to us all; but how many of us stop to see just how workable these and so many other beautiful passages from the Sermon on the Mount are in our own lives right here on campus? In these weeks between two seasons of giving thanks and rejoicing for God's bountiful gifts to us, the Sermon on the Mount is an appropriate theme for our Inspirational each night at the Center. Reread its message if you will, and stop by the Center after supper to hear how its words have worked a change in the lives of many on the campus and elsewhere. Perhaps they can help you, too.

Faculty Speak To Freshmen

The freshman orientation meetings of December 7 and December 14 will take up the question of career opportunities in the various fields of major study at M. W. C.

Faculty members will give brief three-minute speeches on the offerings of their particular departments in G. W. Auditorium at 12:30 each Thursday. These meetings will be of special interest to upperclassmen who are as yet uncertain of their major.

The schedule is: December 7—December 7—psychology, history and political science, English, foreign language, early humanities, economics and business administration, art, music, American ideals and institutions; December 14—sociology, pre-nursing, and elementary education.

DR. PARKINSON TO SPEAK AT CONVO.

Dr. B. L. Parkinson, president of Mississippi State College for Women in Columbus, Mississippi, will speak at convocation tomorrow night. His speech will be on "Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness."

Cotton Contest Gets Underway

The 1951 Maid of Cotton contest is underway. The contest is open to any girl who was born in cotton-producing state, who is between the ages of 19 and 25, and who is at least 5 feet 5 inches tall. The deadline for applications in the contest has been extended to December 7.

The 1951 Maid of Cotton will spend the month of January in New York City, travel to thirty other major U. S. cities, visit many foreign countries, be given an all-cotton wardrobe designed by top-flight designers and be presented with a 1951 streamlined Ford convertible by Memphis District Ford Dealers.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 8...THE SEA GULL

"I'm not as gullible as I look!"

Maybe our little over-water friend is just fishing for a compliment. On the other hand, he may have reference to all these quick-trick cigarette tests you hear about nowadays. Well, he's not the only one who's been at sea. Frankly, how can you judge a cigarette by a swift sniff? Or another cigarette by one fast puff. What's all the rush about, anyway? When it comes to making up your mind about cigarette mildness, we think you'd like to take your time. That's why we suggest:

The sensible test—the one that you make on a day after day, pack after pack tryout for 30 days. It's the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test! Simply smoke Camels—and only Camels—for 30 days. Let your own "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) be your proving ground. When you've tried Camels as a steady smoke, you'll know why . . .

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!

250 Lucky Girls Get Dance Tickets

As the girls in their swirling dresses go dancing by, smiling at their dates; as the music swells and fills the Hall of Mirrors on December ninth, there will be, without doubt, quite a few shivering girls peering in through the windows who will vow to buy tickets for the next celebration. Taking everything into consideration, this one promises to be one of the best dances the Hall of Mirrors has seen.

The tickets are completely sold out, and if there were any to be sold for seats along the wall, they would be gone in no time. Now is the time for anyone with a few extra hours on Saturday to make some extra money. All she has to do is round up a couple dozen pillows, place them in strategic spots outside the windows, and auction them off at nine o'clock.

There will be no arranged decorations, for the Hall is always radiantly adorned with every color in the rainbow. The varying hues of the long dresses add to the feeling of excitement and gaiety that is found at a big dance.

Instead of the customary Tea Dance in the afternoon, there will be informal group meetings in the parlors of the four major dorms. At that time the couples will meet the couples with whom they will exchange dances, entertainers, such as Donna Hankla and Conky, will play and sing, group singing will go on, or . . . you can talk.

From eight o'clock until eight forty-five, Claude Thornhill and his orchestra will give a concert of their dance music and popular pieces. Girls will swoon and boys will cheer, and the tickets are thirty-five cents. Seriously, it's something to look forward to.

At nine o'clock the dance itself will begin with the hauntingly beautiful them song of the orchestra, "Snowfall." Mr. Thornhill's band features the distinctive piano styling and unique orchestration which made him so famous. Most unusual of all is the fact that in the six brass, there is a French horn. The horn, which is usually identified with symphonic orchestras, is being used to blend with the colorfully harmonious arrangements of the leader. Two vocalists round out the group.

Twenty-eight of the faculty were invited to the dance and quite a few have accepted. They will join the 250 student couples, making a total of about 530 dancers. The Dance Committee will endeavor to have enough food to offer these 530 dancers refreshments, but hope that people will not feel extremely hungry that night. An averagely empty stomach will be replenished, have no fear!

To the 250 lucky ones—have a marvelous time!

Antique Collection To Be Exhibited

An antique show is being held December 5 through 8 at the Community Center, 408 Canal Street, from 11 A. M. Tuesday until 10 P. M. Friday.

The antiques shown represent collections from all over the east and as far west as Chicago.

Mrs. Kurt Leidecker, chairman of publicity for the show and sale, which is sponsored by the Womens' Club of Fredericksburg, announced that General and Mrs. Franklin Hart will be guests of honor at the exhibit. He is commander of the Marine base at Quantico.

Tea will be served from 3 to 5 on the very table at which Clara Barton dined when she was ministering to the wounded soldiers of the Civil War 85 years ago.

The Womens' Club expresses the hope that the girls will come. The proceeds are to go for the erection of recreational facilities in Fredericksburg.

There would be few discourteous children if parents cared more about the child's appreciation of others than about his outward manner. Well-intended gestures of appreciation, even though awkward, should be encouraged—and eventually the child will conform to social demands.

Play To Be Given By German Club

Der Deutsche Studien Teles (The German Club on Campus) and the beginning German classes are producing a German Christmas play, Ein Deutsches Krippenspiel, on Thursday, December 14, in Monroe Auditorium at 7 P. M.

The play dates from the Middle Ages, and contains a number of old German hymns, which are under the direction of Miss Vera Olejary, accompanied on the organ by Miss Betty Ann Bange. There will be no admission fee and all are welcome.

Sponsored by Dr. S. C. Engelmann, the play includes: Anne Ceglis, Maris; Lloyd Wilson, Josef; Elfreda Beck; Gabriel; Charles Meadows, Wirt (an innkeeper); Frances Gunther, Wirtin (innkeeper's wife); Uti Busemann, Dorothy Green, and Sarah Marable, three shepherds; and Sally Fuhring, Gisela Ruhrrath, and Janice Counts, three kings. Miss Linda Hillman is in charge of costumes.

RA Shows Movie

On Friday, December 1, the Recreation Association sponsored a movie entitled "Make the Most of Play-time" as one of its Chapel programs for the year.

I. C. M. A. Offers Writing Awards

The International Circulation Managers' Association is sponsoring three new writing awards of $250 each, to be distributed this spring. The ICMA will also award one $750 scholarship for post-graduate work in circulation management.

These awards are open to any undergraduates regularly enrolled in their junior or senior years of college. Entrants must write a thesis of up to 1000 words on any of the following subjects: 1. How a Newspaper Circulation Department benefits the Community, 2. How Newspaper boy Training Helped Me To Go to College, 3. Job Opportunities in Newspaper Circulation. For more information on the $250 awards come to 120 Virginia Hall.

Application blanks for the $750 scholarship, to be awarded to a student receiving an A.B. or B.S. degree or the equivalent during 1950-1951, may be obtained by writing H. Phelps Gates, Education Committee, International Circulation Managers' Association, One, Norway Street, Boston 15, Mass.

Scholarships Offered For Graduate Study

Several opportunities for graduate study are being offered to students in the next year.

The Swedish government has made three fellowships available to American students for graduate study in Sweden during the academic year 1951-1952. These fellowships are offered for study at the Universities of Gothenburg, Lund, Stockholm, Uppsala, or a choice of several others.

Ten scholarships are being offered by the University of Chicago to college graduates intending to become teachers. Each scholarship is for $576, which covers the cost of the tuition.

The English Britannica Film Scholarship Selection Board is sponsoring a scholarship for students interested in specializing in audio-visual education, during the 1951 summer session.

Further information about any of the scholarships may be obtained from the office of Mrs. John Russell, director of student personnel.

"Mermaid Mosque" To Be Presented

Ever see a mermaid? Then come to the pool on December 7, at 7:30, to see the Terrapin Club Swimming Exhibition. The admission is free, and the exhibition open to all.

"Mermaid Mosque" is the first production of the Terrapin Club for the '50-'51 season, and the new members will swim with the club for the first time. An added attraction will be the new bathing suits recently acquired by the swimming group.

The aquacade will be divided into three sections. First on the program will be demonstrations of the crawl, side stroke, and back stroke. Then the group will present a water ballet, and the last feature of the presentation will be diving.

Prints members who did such a grand job. A pat and a lump of sugar for all the horses who gave such good performances, too!

Winners from our group and the Junior Riders included, in the following classes: Open Working Hunters, 1. Joan Katz riding Time N' Half; 2. Gypsy, owned and ridden by Doug Redgrave; Oak Hill Equitation, 1. Betty Lou Snellings; 2. Libby Linstrom; 3. Jackie Bragg; 4. Butch Harding; Junior Equitation, 1. Junior Walther; 2. Anne Carmack; Junior Hunter Hacks, 1. Virginia Boy, ridden by Nelson Berry; 2. Chick-a-linda, ridden by Jackie Bragg; 3. Gypsy and Doug Redgrave; Junior Working Hunters, 1. John Shelhorse on Playday; 2. Anne Carmack on Playday; 3. Nelson Berry riding Virginia Boy; Handy Hunters, 3. Doug Redgrave and Gypsy; 4. Zero Hour ridden by Anne Carmack; Reserve Working Hunter Champion, Doug Redgrave's Gypsy.

NEW MEMBERS JOIN FOLK DANCE CLUB

Cotton skirts were blowing in the breeze on November 27, when the Folk Dance Club took new members into their club. The festivities of the day began at breakfast in the South wing when the new members served breakfast to the old members.

During the day, the new members were required to wear the costume of the club, which consists of a full, bright, cotton skirt and blouse, and were required to curtsy to old members and do-so-do to other new members. A blue paper figure of a dancing girl to tell the world the name of their club was worn by each one.

At the close of the day, the club held its regular meeting, at which time the new members each had to perform an original dance for the rest of the club. Refreshments were served and the following girls were welcomed into the club: Pat Swain, Shirley King, Betty Mothershead, Jean Austin, E. M. Vandemark, Carol Ann Smith, Caroline Hicks, Cathy Olsen, and Mary Landis.

Important Notice!!

Will all swimmers who received "Incompletes" in swimming last year, and all swimmers who wish to pass the swimming exemption test, please report to Miss Woosley at the Pool on one of the following days from 5:00 to 5:45 P.M.:

Tuesday, December 5; Wednesday, December 6; Thursday, December 7; Monday, December 11; Tuesday, December 12; Wednesday, December 13.

Outstanding things seen and heard during the day: The Knock-down and Out class and those nearly six feet jumps. . . Zebula. . . Funny Newbill and her good colt, Ho-Hum, hunter champion. . . little John Shelhorse's face when he was called in for the blue in Junior Working Hunters for his beautiful round on Playday. He was so surprised! . . . Carol Bailey Miller judging. . . Grandma Carmack in the Junior classes. . . the yells you could hear around the world in the jump-offs for the Knockdown and Out class. . . the "kangaroos" leading their horses over the last jump in the Handy Hunter class. Such form! . . . Al Scholl begging for hands for the jump crew. . .

Yep, it was a good show. And if you didn't see it, don't you dare miss the Gymkhana!

Eastern Shore Girl Wins Frosh R A Representative

Things to Think About

Where's the team that can whip the faculty team? So far none has made itself known. Those playing for the unbeaten faculty are Miss Hubbell, Miss Bell, Miss Woosley, Dr. Croushore, Mr. Carter, and Dr. Pierce. To the opponents of this victorious squad the game seems more like "folllyball!"

Last Wednesday night, Monroe gymnasium experienced something new and different, something which almost made her basketball "hoops" "di doo." For probably the first time in the gym's history, practically a whole dormitory came out to watch their team play volleyball. If Virginia girls can get out and support their players, and even help the scorer count points, how about the rest of the dorms? Come out and support your team!!

Bowling Experts Here's Your Chance

The National Intercollegiate American Telegraphic Ten-Pin Tournament will be held during a two-week period in February, March, and April, 1951. If you wish to enter, please contact Miss Woosley in Monroe Basement at 12:30 P.M. on Monday, December 11.

At least ten girls from Mary Washington must enter to form a team, playing as many games as they wish during the two-week period. The highest scores are sent to the National Committee, and the schools entered are then ranked according to scores, each school receiving points according to its rankings.

You do not need to be an expert to enter the tournament, and if you are interested in improving your game, this is your opportunity.

Something New

If you happen to see a nice, broad Southern smile on one of the freshmen or happen to hear the very contagious laugh that goes along with that smile—chances are, that's Caroline Scarborough. Caroline, who is "Sam" to almost everyone, is the newly-elected freshman representative on RA Council. Hailing from Eastern Shore, Virginia, she attended Accomac High School where she was her junior class president and took an active interest in dramatics.

"Sam" is essentially an athletic girl—"Swimming and diving are my passions," she says. She also likes to skate, play volleyball, ping pong, and dance. "Sam" has yet to learn to play tennis, but she plans to learn here soon.

Since she has been at MWC, Sam has participated in a number of activities. She was a ghost and a pumpkin in the RA Benefit, is on the Cabin Committee, is a member of Athenaeum (the Latin-Greek Society), and belongs to the Eastern Shore Club here on campus. She also works on the Battle-field, plays on Cornell's volleyball team in the inter-dorm competition, and belongs to the Junior Swim Club. "Sam" is an English Major and wrote up her high school baseball games in the county newspaper.

"Sam" likes people in general very much, and she loves Mary Washington. Always ready with a quick quip or a laugh, she is quite a humorist and usually livens up a conversation considerably. A very vivacious girl, "Sam" should prove a good choice as freshman RA representative.

Chapel Program Features Dancers

Striking costumes and whirling figures will grace the halls of George Washington on Friday, December 8, when an exhibition of modern dances will be featured in Chapel. The program is being given by the Concert and Junior Dance Clubs, and will consist of four dances. In order of their appearance the dances are "Rag Mop," a series of Emily Post Etiquette movement interpretations, "Celebration Ritual," and "College Suite" (Sarabande for Seniors, Holiday Gigue, Junior Ring Dance, Homesickness, Chapel-time, and Goodbye to College.) All the choreography was done by the dancers themselves with the exception of the "Celebration Ritual" by the Junior Club which was choreographed by Mrs. Claudia Read.

Come Week Held In February; Miss Turnbull Among Speakers

(Ed's note: This is the first in a series to acquaint Mary Washington with the Come Week speakers.)

Come Week, Christianity Our Major Emphasis, being held February 18-22 will have four well known leaders. Each of these leaders, outstanding in his or her field, will take part in Mary Washington's Religious Emphasis Program by participating in classroom discussions, bull-sessions, and planned lectures.

Miss Helen Brogren Turnbull, present Director of Windham House, a National graduate training center for women of the Episcopal Church, received her B.A. degree from Goucher College and her M.A. in religious education from the Teachers College of Columbia University. She did graduate study at Union Theological Seminary in New York and Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass. Miss Turnbull is qualified to speak on religion, education, and sociology and during Come Week she will enter classes to lead discussions on these topics. Her special interests are training for work in the Christian Church, The Christian Church, Church Unity, and the church and the campus.

MISS HELEN TURNBULL

Miss Turnbull has previously held positions as: a case worker for a Family Agency in Baltimore, Md.; Province Director for Gamma Phi Beta sorority, visiting colleges in the South; Assistant Registrar, Dispensary, Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md.; Salesman, Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company, Baltimore; Provincial Secretary of College Work in New England for the Episcopal Church; Assistant Secretary, Division of College Work of the National Council of the Episcopal Church.
